

Artificial intelligence all attempts to automate human cognitive processes -- from a spreadsheet to a humanoid robot

Machine learning developing programs purely from exposure to training data

Deep learning

long chains of geometric transformations, structured as layers

Generative AI

self-supervised, billions of parameters, samples new inputs

