

the latent space

each dot is one training image

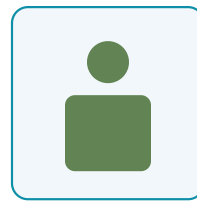

what the decoder returns

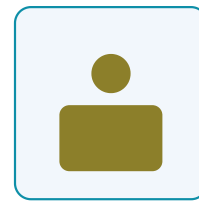

A

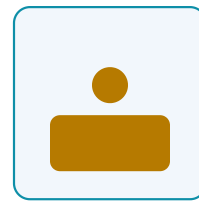

$t = 0.25$

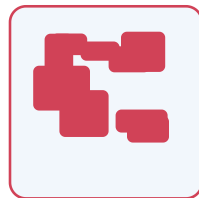

$t = 0.50$

$t = 0.75$

B

C

Every point decodes to something. Only the points the data covers decode to something valid — which is where the sixth finger comes from.